

ARMAGH DIOCESAN BOARD OF MISSION

Annual Project & Competition

The Armagh Diocesan Board of Mission would like to introduce our annual project for use with Sunday Schools and children's groups throughout the diocese. This year's project is produced by The Leprosy Mission N.I. (See details overleaf)

The project material will be available in August; and we would encourage parishes to use it at any suitable time from September onwards.

The competition will run until Mission Sunday - 20th November.

The material will be available in both electronic and printed format. Just fill in your details below, return it by post or email, and we'll get the relevant details to you a.s.a.p.; or, for any other details, simply contact our secretary (details below).

In previous years, the Board of Mission sent one pack to every parochial group - with the result that some went unused while some groups requested more than one.

Downloading material may be easier than collecting and cheaper than posting.

No Pain. No Gain

Peter Hilton of Leprosy Mission writes:

The Leprosy Mission are pleased to work with Armagh Diocesan Board of Mission, to provide a number of lessons for use within Sunday Schools, youth groups and uniformed organisations throughout the Diocese. These lessons will explore what it is like to live with leprosy.

Through games, bible stories, video, worksheets, and modern day accounts of people who have leprosy - we'll be asking the question:

What would it be like to live without pain?'

We'll also be learning about how The Leprosy Mission helps to defeat leprosy and transform lives, as well as running a competition which children can enter.

We'd love you to join us in helping children discover more about this ancient but still very destructive disease, and how Christians are reaching out and bringing hope and healing to those who have it.

See overleaf for details of the Diocesan Board of Mission annual project
